Let's Start!

Do you get the right amount of sleep every night? Let's find out!

Learning Outcome

Describe routines and regular activities in a wider range of social and work contexts.

Ask your partner:

- How many hours do you sleep every night?
- When do you sleep more than usual? Why?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about healthy habits.
- I can talk about what people do or what people are doing.
- I can discuss experiences I've had or haven't had.

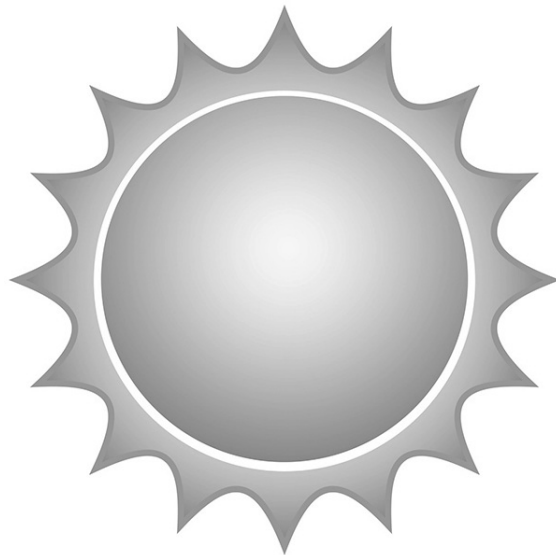

Let's Explore!

Vanessa reads a short article about sleep. What's it about?

* "Sleep" is both a noun and verb. Sleep is the state of resting your mind and body. To sleep is the action.

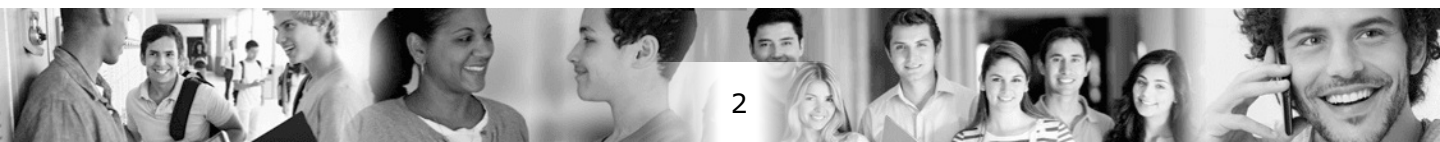

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Have you woken up tired this morning? Many of us are not getting enough sleep every night. In fact, the average American is sleeping one less hour a night than they should. Their body needs more. Adequate rest is linked to good health. Poor sleep habits contribute to a drop in performance in school and at work.

They have also contributed to accidents, memory loss, mental health problems, physical diseases and weight gain. It is suggested that you go to bed and get up at the same time each day. Relax for 30 to 60 minutes before going to bed. Avoid alcohol and caffeine within several hours of bedtime.

Are you finding you can't fall asleep? Get out of bed and do something relaxing. Remember, the amount of sunlight exposure you get during the day is vital to your sleep. If you don't get enough, it will be harder for you to fall asleep at night. Have you gotten enough sunlight exposure today?

Let's Practice!

What does the article say about the average American's* sleep habits?

5. should / alcohol / and / You / caffeine / avoid / before / bed / to / go / you / .

Let's Practice!

Vanessa writes down all the healthy habits* the article mentioned but she has a few extra. Which ones are they?

*"habits" are something you do regularly without thinking about it.

Instructions: Read the text. Rewrite all the sentences that are healthy habits.

Sleeping problems have also contributed to accidents, memory loss, mental health problems, physical diseases and weight gain. It is suggested that you go to bed and get up at about the same time each day. Relax for 30 to 60 minutes before going to bed. Avoid alcohol and caffeine within several hours of bedtime.

Extension Activity

Let's talk about your sleep habits.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- What are your sleep habits?
- Write a list of 5 habits you follow that relate to your sleep.
- Then, write down 2 more habits you would like to follow.
- Are there any habits you've tried to keep but haven't? What are they?
- Use all your answers and write a paragraph (8-10 lines).
- Proofread your paragraph.
- Read it aloud to your class.

Learning Points

Present Simple vs. Present Continuous

You use the Present Simple tense and the Present Continuous tense to talk about the present in different ways.

You use the Present Simple tense:

- to talk about things that are always true
- to give general information
- to talk about habits and routines
- to express feelings (stative verbs)

You use the Present Continuous tense:

- to talk about an action happening now
- to talk about things happening around now
- to talk about things that are changing

Present Simple Tense	Present Continuous Tense
I sleep for 6 hours every night. I read a book before I go to bed. I feel tired after I go on a long walk.	I'm sleeping 7 hours every night now. I'm reading a book about the meaning of dreams. I'm feeling sleepy.

Examples:

- We are not getting enough sleep every night.
- The body needs more sleep.

Learning Points

What have you done?

You use the Present Perfect to talk about your experiences or challenges. These actions started in the past, haven't finished or are still related to the present.

Form
Subject I/you/we/they He/she	+ auxiliary have has	+ past participle *	+ complement

* For irregular verbs you use the past participle.
For regular verbs you add -ed at the end of the verb in infinitive.

Examples:

- Poor sleep habits have contributed to a drop in performance at school and at work.
- They have also contributed to accidents and memory loss.
- You have gotten enough sleep.
- I have relaxed for 30 minutes.
