Let's Start!

Is hypnosis the way to go? What are the other options?

Learning Outcome

Identify and provide solutions to problems in a range of social contexts.

Ask your partner:

- What do you do when you are having trouble sleeping?
- What different things do you try when you can't sleep?
- What solutions might work best when you can't sleep?

Can Do Statements

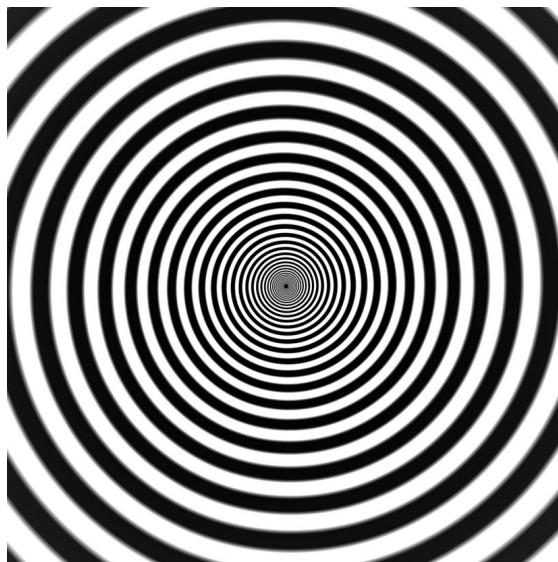

- I can offer advice and solutions about healthy habits.
- I can discuss experiences I've had or haven't had.
- I can talk about what is necessary.

Let's Explore!

Vanessa tells Sally about the hypnotherapy. How's it going?

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Sally: Hey V! Are you doing that hypnosis stuff now?
Vanessa: Yes, I've started. I've gone to 2 sessions so far.
Sally: How are you finding it? Is hypnosis for you?
Vanessa: I'm not sure. I think I'm going to have to start looking at other options.
Sally: Why do you say that?
Vanessa: I haven't experienced much change in my sleeping patterns.
Sally: Vanessa, you ought to give it some time. You should know these things don't work right away.
Vanessa: I know. I've got to relax.
Sally: You have got to be less concerned with this. If it works, then that's great. If it doesn't, you can say you've tried it. Besides, there are many different remedies for you to try.
Vanessa: Like what? I've already tried a bunch.
Sally: You'd better try some traditional Chinese medicine. I've learned so much about it from visiting China.
Vanessa: I haven't considered that route. I need to do some research. I'm going to give it some thought.
Sally: I could give you some ideas if you want.
Vanessa: Sure.

Let's Practice!

Has Vanessa started her hypnosis? Has it cured* her insomnia?

*To "cure" something is to make it go away.

Instructions: Read the sentences. Write the correct word from the list to correctly complete the sentences. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

Learning Points

Present Perfect vs. Past Simple

You use the Present Perfect tense to talk about a finished action or event that is connected to the present in some way. You use the Simple Past tense to talk about a finished action or event not necessarily connected to the present.

You can use the Present Perfect tense to talk about experiences. When you use the Present Perfect tense, you think about the past and present together. There is some connection between what happened in the past and now.

Look at the chart about how to form the Present Perfect tense:

Form	Subject	To have	Past Participle
Affirmative	I	have	tried
Negative	We	have not	tried

Remember you can use the contracted form when speaking:

I have/have not	=	I've/I haven't
She has/has not	=	She's/She hasn't
He has/has not	=	He's/He hasn't
They have/have not	=	They've/They haven't
You have/have not	=	You've/You haven't
We have/have not	=	We've/We haven't

Examples:

- I've started the hypnosis.
- I haven't seen much improvement in my sleeping patterns.

Learning Points

Necessity and Advisability

When you talk about what is necessary, you use have got to and going to have to.
When you talk about what is advisable, you use need to, could, should, ought to, and had better.

Necessary	Advisability
You've got to relax.	I could give some ideas if you want.
I'm going to have to give it some thought.	You ought to give it some time.
	You'd better try some traditional medicine.
	She should think about it.
